Last revised in 1993, new edition focuses on God's movement in the world by Paul Seebeck | Presbyterian News Service LOUISVILLE — Five years in the making, the 2018 Book of Common Worship(BCW) for the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.) will be in the hands of customers in the coming weeks. This useful volume includes everything church leaders need for Sunday worship, the Christian year, the sacraments, and pastoral and occasional services, such as ordinations, weddings, wholeness services, and funerals. "We have sought to be good stewards of the mysteries of God," added Gambrell. Included in these sections are services for: Blessings of the Animals Resources for prayer and worship after a violent event Guidelines for gathering neighbors of other faiths or no faith for times of celebrations, or when there is conflict or crisis In 2013, the Book of Common Worship editorial team — which included representatives from the PC(USA) office of Theology and Worship, Presbyterian Association of Musicians (PAM) and the Presbyterian Publishing Corporation (PPC) — began working on this edition of the BCW, which was first published in 1906. Guidance is provided for those who pray extemporaneously or write their own prayers. Orders of worship are streamlined and simplified. The BCW also has a revised marriage liturgy section, which includes a marriage service that is inclusive of all couples — in response to the movement for marriage equality and changes to the constitution of the PC(USA). They also worked with a diverse group of 150 editorial advisors. "And to respond to the movement of the Holy Spirit in our own time, particularly through the gifts and sights of new worshiping communities, multicultural congregations and ecumenical partners." The 2018 BCW includes theological and practical commentaries. Take the discussion with you using tablet and mobile apps. With some trepidation, Gambrell had prepared a list of possible revisions to discuss with him. Perform powerful searches to find exactly what you're looking for. As talks of revising the BCW began, Gambrell paid a visit to the editor of the 1993 BCW, Harold M. This revision adds brief passages of practical commentary before each section and service, as well as more guidance for those who pray spontaneously or compose their own prayers. The suggestions are offered to assist in planning an interreligious or community gathering in a time of conflict or crisis. These ideas might also be adapted for ecumenical services. For two years, the editorial team listened to as many voices in the church as possible — always reflecting together on what they had heard — before the writing process began.
